Preface.

THIS Volume contains the first half of another of the Manuscripts compiled by the late Joseph Foster and purchased by the Authorities of the British Museum, from Josslyn Foster, 14th Oct., 1905.

It bears the Press-mark, Add. MS. 37,149, and contains a continuation of the Names of Grantees of Arms, commenced in the volume already printed by the Society. It must, however, be clearly pointed out that, whereas in the first volume there were always the Harleian and other MSS. to refer to, in this case it is not so. The Volume contains almost entirely references to the Grant Books preserved at the Heralds' College; and, of course, it follows that, even had time allowed, to check any of the information given in it was naturally impossible. Every care has been taken to give the references correctly. Unfortunately, however, the numbers of the volumes are wrongly given by Foster in Arabic numerals, and badly-written figures often lead to error; I have restored the Roman numerals.

Foster commenced by filling in a certain portion of the date to each Patent; this has been continued, as also the references to printed books where a copy of the Grant referred to will be found.

It seems certain that Foster added items of information, after his first index slips had been made, with the object of identifying the person mentioned. It seems most probable that many if not all the later additions are enclosed in round brackets, and it will be noticed that some of the Grantees are marked with a rank they did not obtain until after the date of the Patent of Arms.

It must also be pointed out that the references to Berry, Berry's Supplement, and Berry's Appendix must not be taken as giving in every instance the date of the Patent, &c. Therefore it is sometimes difficult, on turning to Berry's Encyclopædia Heraldica, to identify the Arms intended, particularly when the date of the Patent is after that of the publication of Berry's volumes.

In using the book it is also necessary to remember that Foster very often uses the words "before" and "after" when expressing a change of name, simply as describing the position of the two or more names referred to. To take one instance, he writes "Fitzgerald after Dalton," but Dalton was the name really added. It would have been clearer to have written "Fitzgerald to Dalton-Fitzgerald"; to have altered all the instances in which this error occurs would have taken more time than was at my disposal.

Foster gives a list of the volumes of Grants with dates attached, and it will be found printed on page vii, together with some additions by myself, in order to bring the list up to the date required. In the case of the last volume referred to, LXXI, it must be noticed that no folios are given in the manuscript, so I have printed the year for this volume, 18 . . ., although, at the same time, it may be assumed that it contains some portions of the years 1899 and 1900.

I hope, in Part 2 of this Volume, to print another list I have been compiling, giving more complete information about the dates.

From a comparison of the dates given in this list, as well as notes from printed books and my own collections, it has been possible to add, here and there, dates to the Patents. These, and all other additions, have been placed in square brackets, except simple connecting words, and in some instances the names of the counties.

It must be remembered that one of Foster's failings was an infatuation for brevity, quite regardless, it seems to me, of any clearness of expression. This, together with the indifferent and confused writing, has led to some difficulties. Many of them were overcome by the interest as well as the care and trouble given by Miss Drucker, the transcriber.

My thanks I also gladly give to my brother, J. Paul Rylands, Esq., F.S.A., and to the Secretary, W. Bruce Bannerman, Esq., F.S.A., for kind assistance.

I must also mention how much I have benefited by the consideration and advice of the printers, Messrs. Roworth & Co., who have throughout freely given me the advantage of their skill and experience.

W. HARRY RYLANDS.

Dates at which the Various Grant Books commence and from which dates can be approximately assigned to each Grant, 18th-Century entries ending with Grants [Vol.] XX.
